HOLE-IN-THE-ROCK, Utah (AP)—The peace that prevails over the southern Utah desert was shattered Monday when a truck carrying 46 explorers overturned, killing nine Boy Scouts, two of their leaders and a woman reporter who was covering the venture.

The list of hospitalized reached 13, with at least two critical, as details of the tragedy slowly came from the scene of the accident in the remote desert area between Escalante and Hole-in-the-Rock on the Colorado River.

The group was from the Ogden-Salt Lake City-Provo area about 200 miles north. Most were Boy Scouts, but Floyd Loveridge, chief executive of the scouts in Provo, said the trip was under the auspices of the South Cottonwood Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in the Provo area.

The adventurous expedition was led by a group of teachers and college professors who had left many trips into Utah's red desert areas.

One of the dead was H. Darrell Taylor, 45, a professor of languages at Brigham Young University in Provo and scout leader.

Another of the leaders, Merlin J. Shaw, 51, of Provo, an assistant professor at Brigham Young and father of six, was killed. Monday was his 26th wedding anniversary.

Dorothy Hansen, 24, a vacationing reporter for Salt Lake City's Deseret News, was along for the ride, and planned to write a feature article.

Utah highway patrolman Burt Giles said the truck was grinding up a steep grade on a dirt road that had been battered by the fierce desert winds and flash Continued on Page Two

Pink Tomato Festival Needs Rain

WARREN, Ark. (AP)—A little rain could make this weekend's Pink Tomato Festival one of the most festive ever, because it would assure one of the best tomato crops ever.

The crop already is good, but late tomatoes are in jeopardy because of the drought that has hit the state since late May.

The Warren tomato market opened Monday and the auctioning begins today. The Hermitage market has been open since last Thursday.

Bradley County agent Ray Hunter said "everything looks good." He said prospects for the tomato crop were better than ever.

Warren, the state's tomato capital, is the scene of the annual tomato festival the week auctioning begins. The festivities will be climaxed by selection of Miss Pink Tomato in a beauty pageant Friday and a Pink Tomato Ball Saturday night.

Bradley, Drew, Ashley and Lincoln counties grow a large part of Arkansas tomato crop. But Cleveland, Nevada, Crawford, Franklin and Johnson counties all have considerable acreage.

Last year Arkansas ranked 11th nationally in tomato production with a crop valued at $3 million. It totaled 290,000 hundredweight, compared to a 10-year average (1951-60) of 183,000 hundredweight. The average value of the crop over the 10-year period was $1,633,000 annually. Last year's crop was almost double that and this year's crop is expected to exceed the 1962 total.

Roy Bass, agricultural statistician for the Crop Reporting Service, said hot, dry weather had put late clusters of tomatoes in jeopardy. But he said a good rain could bring the crop out at maximum yield.

Tomato growers in Bradley County, who have 1,000 acres of the crop planted, were very optimistic.

Eighteen girls from south Arkansas will compete in the tomato beauty pageant. A Miss Pink Tomato of Tomorrow will be named in a junior beauty contest.

A parade at 10 a. m. Friday will get the festival rolling. An all-tomato luncheon will be held at noon Friday and a tour of the tomato markets and fields in Warren and Hermitage was scheduled for Friday afternoon.

Concerts, games and sports events also were scheduled. The Pink Tomato Golf Tournament at Warren Country Club was expected to draw 90 golfers. Finals will be Sunday.

Rail Unions Agree to Delay of Walkout

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rail operating unions agreed today to a five-day extension of the deadline in the railroad work rules dispute and delayed the threat of a nationwide strike until next week.

The railroads had agreed Monday night to the extension which Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz requested when it became apparent no settlement could be reached by the first deadline—midnight Wednesday night.

Actually, the agreement by the railroads made a strike unlikely, because they must take the initiative, by putting the disputed work rules into effect, before the five operating unions can react with a strike.

After consultations Monday night and a meeting early this morning, the unions sent the following telegram to Wirtz:

"Please be advised the labor organizations will cooperate."

They also advised the railroads of their decision at the start of new talks this morning.

To speed the negotiations, today's session was limited to federal mediators, including Wirtz and his representatives, the railroads and the two unions immediately affected by the work rules issue: the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers and the Independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

In telegrams to both sides, Wirtz said "it is imperative that further intensive negotiations continue without disruption of essential railroad service."

He suggested that the deadline be extended from 12:01 a. m. Thursday to 12:01 a. m. next Tuesday.

There had even been controversy over the date of the deadline—the time when the provisions of the presidential emergency order run out.

The Labor Department had insisted that the ban expired at midnight tonight. Monday all parties agreed that the deadline was midnight Tuesday.

After this deadline, the railroads will be free to do what they have been trying to do for almost four years—put into effect new work rules which will eliminate the jobs of some 40,000 firemen on freight and yard trains. The unions have said they will call a strike when the railroads put the new work rules into effect.

Wirtz met with the negotiators in a long session but there was no sign of progress.

Both management and unions asked Wirtz last Tuesday to step in and try to hasten a settlement. Wirtz said then they reported that agreement had not been reached on any point in the controversy.

The railroads contend that outdated work rules cost them $600 million each year in unnecessary operating cost. They call this featherbedding.

A presidential commission last year agreed that the railroads must have the right to make work rule changes to keep pace with technological advance. It suggested elimination of the jobs of 40,000 firemen from freight and yard trains as a first step.

New Friction Over Proposed Nuclear Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's announcement of a Moscow conference on a nuclear test ban stirred new friction with Republicans and apparently fell short in rallying key Senate support.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois expressed indignation that the President had made his announcement of the meeting and of the cessation of atmospheric tests Monday without any advance consultation with the Republicans.

"We Republicans are expected to play the bipartisan game on foreign policy," Dirksen said in an interview. "Yet when some decision of this sort is made we are not consulted in advance. We are expected to go along without even knowing what the President is proposing."

Dirksen objected to holding the meeting of representatives of the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union in Moscow. He said it ought to be on neutral ground.

The Republican leader also said he wants to know whether reports are true that the United States will be represented at the session, expected to be held in July, "by someone outside of the government."

Dirksen demanded to know in the Senate if the meeting will become one of "concession and more concession to Khrushchev to achieve some kind of test ban treaty."

Dirksen's criticism reflected an uneasiness on the part of many senators that the United States might be trapped in some agreement that would not provide foolproof inspections of what the Russians were doing.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, said glowingly that the President had "reaffirmed the nation to peace as a realistic and imperative goal."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., a possible rival for Kennedy in the 1964 presidential election, said the President is "dead wrong" in agreeing to the conference and in suspending atmospheric tests in the meantime.

Assures a Rights Bill Will Pass

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy went over the outlook for a new civil rights program with Democratic congressional leaders today and got assurances that a bill will pass.

When the legislation will go to Congress was left up in the air.

House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts predicted the House will pass an effective bill. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said that was exactly his opinion of what the Senate would do. But both said only that Kennedy will submit his civil rights plan to Congress "in the very near future."

The Senate Democratic whip, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, told reporters: "There's a lot more consultation to do."

Anthrax Is Dangerous in Dry Times

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. David Ibsen, state veterinarian, warned today that hot, dry weather raises a threat of an outbreak of anthrax in the state.

Ibsen said four cases of anthrax had been diagnosed recently, two in Drew County, one in Chicot and one near the Pulaski-Lonoke county line.

"This is not alarming for this time of year and these weather conditions," Ibsen said, "but we'd like to urge all farmers in the known anthrax areas to get their stock vaccinated."

Ibsen said anthrax, which infects all warm-blooded animals, is spread by a spore which lives in the soil. It is active when the soil is dry and hot.

Ibsen defined the "known anthrax area" as generally southeast of a line drawn diagonally across the state from Pocahontas to Texarkana.

"If these weather conditions continue, the situation could get worse," Ibsen said. "Mississippi already has a worse outbreak than ours."

They Neglected to Pick a State

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Somebody neglected to pick a native state for Sir Winston Churchill when he became America's first and only honorary citizen last April.

The oversight was corrected Monday when the British statesman was commissioned a Kentucky colonel by Gov. Bert Combs. To make sure Churchill knows what his state produces, he also is getting a special five-gallon barrel of Kentucky bourbon. The commission and the keg will be presented to Churchill on July 4—Independence Day.

Wallace Made Good Promise, JFK Acts Fast

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace barred the doors of the University of Alabama to two Negro students today and President Kennedy reacted by ordering the Alabama National Guard into federal military service.

Kennedy directed Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to put in active service "any or all" of the units of the army national guard and of the air national guard of the state "for an indefinite period."

The President acted because, he said, his commands to Gov. George C. Wallace against "unlawful obstructions of justice" had not been obeyed.

Gov. Wallace barred the doors of the university to the two Negro students but federal authorities took them to the dormitories on the campus.

Wallace stood in the doorway of the registration center but there was no physical confrontation involving the governor and the students. They sat in a car with windows rolled down outside the building to hear Wallace read a proclamation barring them.

"They will register today, they will go to school tomorrow," Nicholas Katzenbach, deputy U.S. attorney general, told Wallace at the doorway.

Shortly thereafter Edwin C. Guthman, information chief for the Justice Department, told newsmen that the Negro students Miss Vivian Malone and James Hood would be registered this afternoon. Whether federal troops might be on the scene could not be immediately determined.

Guthman said the registration would take place in Foster Auditorium, the building where Wallace had stood a few moments earlier. He said they would pass through the doorway where Wallace had stood.

The campus has more than 1,000 armed state forces sealing the entrances.

However, Wallace had said before the Negroes arrived the would be no violence. He made his gesture—and it was a dramatic one and may now make no further efforts to block the integration of the school.

The convoy motorcade carrying the students and federal officials arrived at the auditorium at about 10:45 a. m.

U.S. Atty. Macon Weaver and U.S. marshals rode in the first car. Miss Malone and Hood were in the second automobile. They did not get out.

The auditorium was tightly guarded. Patrolmen ringed the building and for nearly an hour before the students arrived only those with security clearance were allowed inside.

Wallace arrived approximately 40 minutes before the Negroes arrived. Several patrolmen watched from the roof of the auditorium. They carried Tommy guns, which rested upon the parapet.

Hundreds of newsmen watched the confrontation.

The temperature was nearly 100 degrees.

The confrontation was brief and gris.

In barring the two, Wallace violated a sweeping injunction issued by a federal judge at Birmingham on June 5.

Chicago Fans Are Dizzy, Delightfully

CHICAGO (AP)—Baseball fans in Chicago are delightfully dizzy. Sure, those Cubs on the North Side lost three to the Los Angeles Dodgers after sweeping four from the San Francisco Giants. But they're still up there in National League contention as they open a week's road trip tonight in Houston.

After two games in the Texas city they go to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Returning from the road for a week's home stand are the White Sox, leading the American League after a 4-3 victory at Kansas City. They take on the Minnesota Twins Tuesday night, then Los Angeles and Kansas City.

The Cubs' comeback, however, remains a hot baseball item hereabouts, and Wrigley Field has not yoked with such excitement generated by the team in years.

The largest crowd in three years—35,743—jammed the park Sunday. The Cubs lost 11-8 to the Dodgers, but there was plenty to root-n-holler about—like Ernie Banks' three homers.

Rejuvenation of the Cubs has transformed Wrigley Field from a ballroom of wallies to a rock-n-roll pad.

Attendance is 100,000 ahead of last year, when the turnstile click faded to 609,000—lowest since 1943. It may reach a million for the first time since 1952, when heavy-hitting Hank Sauer caught the imagination of the fans and won the league's most valuable player award.

And more teams are putting out feelers for trades than they have done in recent years.

"Three or four years ago we stated our youth move," says general manager John Holland. "Now these players are established and there is a sharp rise in interest by other teams for trades. This is natural."

The brakes wouldn't hold and the 2½-ton cattle truck plummeted backwards down the incline. It finally hurtled off the edge of road into a deeply eroded gully and flipped over, trapping most of the passengers huddled in the back and crushing some of them. Some were thrown clear.

any "illegal obstructions of justice."

The presidential proclamation was signed and announced in Washington after the segregationist governor had stationed himself in the campus building where students register.

"We are going to have peace," he said while standing beside a podium which had been erected for him just inside the building door.

At that time the proclamation was being announced by Kennedy. It also was signed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The "cease and desist" order called for the prevention of "conspiracies or domestic violence" in the Alabama racial crisis.

It commanded the governor and all others "engaged in or who may engage in unlawful obstructions of justice, assemblies, combinations, conspiracies or domestic violence in that state to cease and desist therefrom."

Wallace took his place at the door awaiting the arrival of Miss Vivian Malone and James Hood, the 20-year-old Negroes who want to obtain degrees in business administration and psychology from the university.

The two arrived in Tuscaloosa about 10:30 a.m. and were taken to a spot near the campus.

By RELMAN MORIN

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace, ready for a defiant face-to-face encounter with the federal government, comes to the climax today of his stubborn struggle to block two Negro students from enrolling in the University of Alabama.

To the last, he was jut-jawed with defiance.

Before retiring Monday night, he told newsmen he would stand in the doorway today to prevent Vivian Malone and James Hood from registering.

When asked if he would physically stand in the doorway, Wallace replied: "How else can you stand there?"

Wallace rebuffed a personal appeal from President Kennedy, who wired the governor: "I urgently ask you to consider the consequences to your state and its fine university if you persist in setting an example of defiant conduct and urge you instead to leave these matters in the courts of law where they belong."

Kennedy said there would be little danger of violence at the university if Wallace would stay away from the campus.

In reply, Wallace sent the President this telegram:

"My presence here guarantees peace. This is the opinion of all here familiar with the facts, including the legislature of Alabama and the president of the University of Alabama."

The university Board of Trustees backed Wallace.

The university campus was tightly sealed.

Blue-uniformed state troopers manned wooden barricades; they checked credentials of everyone who approached and kept a sharp eye on groups that formed nearby.

They patrolled the streets in squad cars and thronged the entrance and the lobby of the hotel where Wallace spent the night.

Col. Albert Lingo, state public safety director, said arrests had reached 22 up to the eve of the arrival of the two Negro students. Those arrested were charged with illegal possession of weapons that ranged from pistols and clubs to bayonets, swords, tear gas equipment and needle-pointed hooks used for moving cotton bales.

Lingo said a Negro was arrested Monday when four sticks of dynamite were found in his home.

On every hand, automobiles flaunted flags of the Confederacy. One, attached to a radio antenna, was at half-staff.

Around the entrances of Foster Auditorium, where the Negroes were expected to confront Wallace, semi-circles in white paint marked the boundary line for newsmen.

tween you and your husband is partly your imagination and partly the result of certain habits and attitudes unconsciously built up over the years. One cause could be basically different temperaments. The old saying about opposites attracting each other is often true. But to make a success of such a union requires great understanding, especially on the part of the wife.

No normal man would be overly enthusiastic about his predecessor. Your husband's reluctance to talk about his first wife simply indicates that he prefers to live in the present and forget the past. Interpret his reticence as a compliment. Assume the best, not the worst.

Dr. Smiley Blanton, the noted psychiatrist, once wrote: "The wise husband and wife know that even the deepest love must have its intervals of nonactive expression. A person who makes constant demands for 'proofs' of love is like an insecure child who clamors endlessly for his mother's attention. Those who are confident of their basic love will see to it, instead, that provision is made for the release of the tensions and hostilities . . . with periods when the accumulated aggressions may be worked off in sports, hobbies or other channels of deflection."

Dear Helen: My husband and I are moderately well off, sociable people. There is a certain couple we enjoy going out with but can't afford to foot the bill, especially if this involves dinner and a show. Would it be proper to suggest going dutch? —Wondering

Dear Wondering: Under the circumstances you describe it would be perfectly proper to suggest going Dutch. Not many couples can afford a dinner and show for themselves, let alone for four. But you don't necessarily have to go out to enjoy your friends' company. You can invite them to your house for a simple meal which certainly wouldn't upset the budget.

Dear Helen: I am in love with an ex-girl friend's brother. We met two years ago. I used to go to his apartment on weekends to help clean it up and this developed into a romance.

His sister, my girl friend at the time, being jealous of me, took some no-good to her brother's apartment. He and this girl had quite a few wild nights. This soon blew over.

Every weekend I visit the family who live beneath him—good friends of mine. He frequently comes down to talk. I often wonder if he still likes me as much as he used to or does he just talk to be friendly? I forgave him everything. Was that a mistake? —Puzzled

Dear Puzzled: Why wouldn't he be friendly? His apartment probably hasn't had a thorough cleaning since you left. Play it cool and he'll come knocking on your door but don't make a slave of yourself again. That was a mistake.

Dear Helen: I was married 21 years to a girl who kept taunting me about not being a satisfactory provider although I had a good job as traveling salesman. We divorced when she was 40 and I 45. Thirteen years ago I married again, this time to a complete washout. We have absolutely nothing in common. To make matters worse, she nags, has spells and can't cook. I'm 62, she 48. The first wife is the only woman I ever loved. Is there a way out of this hell? —Unhappy Man

Dear Unhappy: You jumped from a hot frying pan into an even hotter fire. How about sending your wife to cooking school? Perhaps if she learned to do some one thing well she would be easier to live with.

Have you a problem? Perhaps

Aunt Bean could plan, but so could the strange man. He was in the aisle seat before us, and rose courteously to let us pass him and take our seats, the ones we had occupied in the morning. He even managed to frustrate Aunt Bean's maneuver to change places with me.

"You go in first, Jannie," she attempted.

But the man had his hand on her arm, and was ready to assist her. Aunt Bean would not be assisted! Anywhere! She walked erectly to the fourth chair, and sat down on it. Lovey followed her. I smiled a little at the man when I took my chair.

"Did you eat some lunch?" he asked me.

"I couldn't." "Humph!" He sat back in his own chair, and crossed his legs. I opened my lips. I wanted to explain to him. I thought better of the impulse, and said nothing. I knew that he was looking at me. But so was Aunt Bean. And my cheeks burned a little.

Smokey, Keyes and Dick came in then the people at the prosecution's table. The jury and finally the Judge, tweeking at his ear lobe. He sat down dropped his gavel, and, to my relief at any rate, Smokey stayed at the table, while other witnesses testified.

First, Miss Anderson, the nurse who had been on duty on the surgical floor that Saturday morning.

Miss Anderson testified that she did not see Weber arrive and she disclosed that he might have entered the operating room by means of the stairway and fire door. She also told about the noise of the disturbance and that she had summoned the police.

Smokey listened to her, now and then smiling faintly as if he approved of what she had done on that fateful Saturday morning. He was thinking about the girl, rather than himself.

She gave a clear picture of the surgical floor on that morning—the wide corridor.

"Do many outsiders come up to the surgical floor?" the prosecutor asked. "Lay people, I mean. Visitors."

"Well—" said the blonde girl. Not many. Very few, in fact. Family members are not permitted up. You know, family of the patients. Unless a case is critical in Recovery, then a wife, functioning of their government. During the week city, county, and state governments were studied. Speakers gave the purposes and duties of each branch in the government.

Lurline Williams of Hope, a candidate of the Nationalist Party was elected Governor for the year 1963. Other Hope girls elected to offices were Gene Briggs, County clerk, Mattie Rutherford, District Prosecuting Attorney, and Callie Hicks was elected the most outstanding girl.

At the end of the meeting each girl received a state pin and a certificate of membership.

Four girls were sponsored by the American Legion and Auxiliary Post No. 427. The fifth girl was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones of the City Bakery.

Cepeda Slugs Giants Out of a Slump

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Orlando Cepeda slugged the San Francisco Giants out of a seven-game losing skid Monday night with a 430-foot homer in the eighth inning that snapped a tie and led to a 7-3 victory over the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Cepeda hit his game-winning off Dodger relief specialist Ron Peranoski leading off the eighth. The homer, Cepeda's 12th, to go with 40 runs batted in and a .308 average, broke a 3-3 tie and ended the Dodgers five-game winning streak.

The triumph moved the defending champion Giants, tied for third place with Chicago, to within one game of the front-running Dodgers with another clash to go in their two-game series. St. Louis, rained out at Pittsburgh, is in second place, now only .002 points behind Los Angeles.

Elsewhere, the Chicago Cubs edged Houston 3-2 on Ken Hubbs' run-scoring single in the ninth inning, the New York Mets downed Cincinnati 3-2 and Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee 6-2 in a game held to 5½ innings by rain.

In the American League, Cleveland nipped Baltimore 3-2. Detroit belted Boston 6-1, the Los Angeles thumped Kansas City 13-3 and New York and Washington swapped shutouts. The Yankees won 7-0, the Senators 1-0. First-place Chicago and Minnesota were not scheduled.

Hubbs delivered his decisive hit following a single by Dick Bertell and a sacrifice. The run was the first earned off Colts' reliever Hal Woodeshick in 22 innings of relief work and tagged him with his second loss against five victories. Lindy McDaniel, who came on for Chicago in the eighth, won it for a 4-1 record. Billy Williams hit a homer for the Cubs and Howie Goss connected for Houston.

Tracy Stallard, 1-3, picked up his first victory since Sept. 3, 1961, by checking the Reds on seven hits and cutting off a ninth inning rally after Cincinnati had closed to within one run. Tim Lincecum's seventh inning homer off Joey Jay, a 21-game winner last year, turned out to be the deciding run for the Mets and sent the Cincinnati right-hander down to his ninth defeat. He has won three.

Ray Culp, Philadelphia's 21-year-old bonus baby, won his eighth game by holding the Braves to four hits in the rain shortened game. One of the hits off Culp, 8-3, was a two-run homer by Ed Matthews. Matthews' error in left field helped the Phillies to two runs in the fourth inning and they wrapped it up with three more in the fifth. Bob Hendley, 4-4, was the loser.

Spahn Says Learning Is Necessary

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The more time you spend with Warren Spahn the more he ceases to impress you as a superlative pitcher. Instead he strikes you as a particularly gracious man.

And like most gracious men, the brilliant left-handed pitcher of the Milwaukee Braves doesn't realize his own greatness.

"A pitcher has to keep learning," said the man who has won more games than Lefty Grove, Carl Hubbell, Herb Pennock, Rube Waddell, Eddie Plank or any other southpaw who ever challenged a hitter.

"They say I'm a polished pitcher. To an extent, they're right and I appreciate the compliment, but I'm still learning.

"I'll keep right on doing it as long as I'm in baseball. When I

Kaline-Wood Combination Helps Tigers

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline is throwing off sparks as the superstar slugger for the Detroit Tigers, which hardly ranks as the surprise of the baseball season.

But the Tigers also are getting some batting fireworks from a less expected source—Jake Wood.

The Kaline-Wood combine spearheaded the offense behind rookie Bill Paul's tight pitching Monday night as the Tigers clipped the Boston Red Sox 6-1. Kaline belted a pair of homers, knocking in four runs, while the wiry Wood tripled and singled twice, stole a base and scored twice.

In other American League action—New York and Washington traded shutouts, the Yankees winning 7-0 on recently-promoted Al Downing's two-hitter before being trimmed 1-0 by left-hander Claude Osteen; Barry Latman's clutch pitching and home run enabled the Cleveland Indians to nip Baltimore's sagging Orioles 3-2; and the Los Angeles Angels bombed Kansas City 13-3 with 18 hits. Chicago's front-running White Sox and the Minnesota Twins were idle.

In the National League—San Francisco ended a seven-game losing string and stopped the Los Angeles Dodgers' winning streak at five, 7-3; the Chicago Cubs edged Houston 3-2; the New York Mets beat Cincinnati, also 3-2; and Philadelphia's downed Milwaukee 6-2 in a game halted after 5½ innings by rain. St. Louis at Pittsburgh was rained out.

Downing, called up from the minors last week, posted his first big league victory in his two-hitter against the Senators. The 21-year-old southpaw, whose only other decision in the majors was a loss to Washington in 1961, struck out nine. Clete Boyer had three Yankee hits, including a homer, and Elston Howard hit a homer and double. Don Rudolph, 3-8, was the loser.

Osteen's victory was his first against four defeats.

Latman homered in the seventh inning for a 3-1 Cleveland lead over the Orioles, pitched out of a jam in the eighth, then had to be bailed out in the ninth.

With one out and two on in the Baltimore ninth, Boog Powell cracked a run-scoring double, but pinch runner Bob Johnson was cut down at the plate trying to come in on the hit. Ted Abernathy relieved Latman at this point and preserved the Tribe's fourth straight victory.

Ed Sadowski, Felix Torres, Lee Thomas and Albie Pearson each had three hits for the Angels as they battered four Kansas City pitchers, starting with Orlando Pena. Sadowski's hits included a homer, and Leon Wagner rapped his 14th for Los Angeles.

Dan Osinski, 5-2, limited the

Travelers Lose 7th in a Row

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Arkansas Travelers dropped their seventh game in a row Monday night, 4-3 to Rochester, and settled solidly into third place in the Southern Division of the International League.

In other games Monday, Columbus beat Buffalo 5-3, Richmond surprised Indianapolis 8-4, Atlanta edged Syracuse 1-0 and Toronto nudged Jacksonville 4-3 in 11 innings.

Of the seven straight losses for Arkansas, five have been by one run.

The only bright spot of the skein has been Richie Allen's hitting. The leftfielder stretched his hitting streak to 13 games Monday night, and a hit tonight against Rochester would put his streak even with a 14-game streak by Norm Gigon earlier this year.

Dick Quorum, in relief of Marcelino Lopez, served up a home run pitch to Ossie Virgil, who blasted it out of the park in the bottom of the ninth inning to give the Red Wings the triumph.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Eight trackmen from Arkansas, running under the name of the Arkansas State Track Club, won seven first and compiled 70 points to place second in the All-America track meet at Knoxville Saturday.

The Arkansas team included Don Ketcheside, David Denman, Joe Wessell, Ernest Miller, Wilbur Owen, Mike Bentley, Gerald Cound and Bill Curtis.
